

Diego Adame leads the LEGO Foundation's parenting initiative which includes investments in projects, research and advocacy activities in 6 countries to scale parenting interventions benefiting 2.5 million children. Previous to that, he led the Foundation's strategy and start-up phase in Mexico. He is originally from Mexico with a background in Economics and an MBA in international development from the University of Geneva.